

NO CHANGE IN GOP CONVENTION PLAN: HALL

Council to Select Streets For 5-Year Paving Plan

Will Inspect Area With Motor Fuel Engineer

Property Owner Group Asks Project For South Part Town

The Harrisburg city council yesterday set Thursday as a day to inspect city streets with the motor fuel tax engineer to determine which streets should be paved during a five-year program to be set up.

The city now is ending the first of five-year programs requested by the state, with paving projects including Land street from Sloan to Robinson, Raymond from Main east about a half block, O'Gara from Granger to the cemetery, and East Sloan from Main to the highway. The East Sloan street project has not been started although the contract has been let.

Any streets selected for motor fuel tax financing under the program must be approved by the state division of highways.

Project Urged
Announcement of the survey was made to a delegation of about twenty property owners in the south part of town, who made a strong effort to get a commitment that the city would favor the extension of South Main to Robinson and Robinson from South Main to Granger as its No. 1 paving project starting next year.

No commitment was given although some members voiced approval that this was a worthy project that would be given utmost consideration.

Advocates of the project pointed out that the pavement would give another good route to the south Harrisburg and Dorrisville area, taking a lot of congestion off Granger.

Discuss Lake Water
The experiment of letting water out of Lake Harrisburg into Middle Fork and pumped from the creek into the reservoir here was discussed. Much knowledge apparently was learned during the 16½ hours of pumping which will aid the water department in future operations of this kind.

Amos Doom, water department superintendent, said that the valve at Lake Harrisburg need be opened only two and a half to three inches to send down enough water against the retaining wall at the pumping station to keep the 3,000 gallon pump in operation.

Lee Skaggs, president of the Egyptian Shrine club, was present again at yesterday's meeting regarding the transfer of Ralph Horne's lease to the club. Skaggs said that the club was ready to accept the city's offer of $75 per year for the house and that the club also was going to pay Horning for work he already had done at the house.

It was agreed that when Horning turns in his lease, which now calls for payments of $20 per year for 19 years, that the Shrine club will pick up the lease and will pay $20, as is provided in the city ordinance, plus $55 per year in an agreement which will be worked out.

Boost Outside Fire Calls
Fire Chief L. G. Martin told the city council of a visit he had made to the Marion fire chief to see about the prospects of the city getting civilian defense help on securing a new fire truck to replace the 1938 model vehicle now at the city fire station.

The Marion chief, he said, told him that Marion bought a new fire truck in 1953 through Civil Defense, with the government and the city each paying half the cost. The chief told Martin the proper man to see regarding this city's application for a new truck under Civil Defense terms.

It was voted by the council at the meeting that on fire calls outside the city, the fee would be $100 instead of $50, as has been the case in the past. Eldorado recently boosted its outside call fee to $100.

THE DAILY REGISTER'S OUTSTANDING CARRIERS were recognized during a program in observance of National Newspaper Week at the Harrisburg Kiwanis club meeting Tuesday evening. The carriers are selected on a basis of prompt delivery, courtesy, neatness, prompt payment of accounts and must have at least six months' service as a carrier. They were presented certificates of merit, lapel pins and sweater emblems by Herman Barnett, Daily Register circulation manager. Freedom of Press Foundation of Free Society, Dr. Ford Tells Kiwanis

Outstanding Daily Register Carriers Honored

The foundation of a free society anywhere is freedom of news and information through a free press, Dr. James L. C. Ford of the Southern Illinois university Journalism department told members of the Kiwanis club last night at a meeting held at the Masonic temple.

Dr. Ford discussed the Newspaper Week theme, "Your Newspaper Fights for Your Right to Know," and stated more readers should know more about their newspaper.

The three outstanding carrier boys of The Daily Register also were presented certificates of award from The Register and the Inland Press Association. The awards were presented by Herman Barnett, circulation manager of The Register to:

John Rann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rann Jr.
Bob Cummings, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cummings.
Billy Upchurch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Upchurch.

The awards are presented annually to the three Daily Register carrier boys who are declared outstanding through their promptness of delivery and service to their customers. The presentation has been made for the past few years at a meeting of the Kiwanis club.

Dr. Ford praised newspaper carrier boys and listed a few of the nation's great and well known men who were former newspaper carriers, such as J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation; Earl Warren, chief justice of the U. S. Supreme Court; Cardinal Spellman; John L. Lewis and Jack Dempsey.

Dr. Ford told of his own experiences as a cub reporter in New York and stated they were only examples of many other reporters who try to get the full news story for their readers from whatever source they can.

"They get the news which is your right to know," Dr. Ford stated. He asked, too, if the readers give the help they can in seeing that all the facts are presented so others may know the full story.

"Newspapers are the chief defenders of free press and free speech. It is a continuous struggle to preserve these privileges, to fight for free access to news which readers have the right to know," Dr. Ford stated.

He mentioned many opposition groups to free press and free news, among them totalitarian governments, bureaucratic officials who forget they are responsible to the people who have placed them in office, pressure groups who want ONLY one side presented—their own side of the story.

"Everyone has equal responsibility to help gather the news," Dr. Ford said.

"Freedom of the press is indivisible, it is not only for a few but for all Americans," Dr. Ford said. "It is a freedom to write and publish without censorship. There is no guarantee the paper will present your point of view only, but it provides a place for all to have a voice," he stated.

The average reader should know more about his newspaper and should learn how the newspaper "fights for your right to know," Dr. Ford said.

Curtis G. Small, editor of The Register and guest of Arthur M. Debes, program chairman, introduced the speaker and praised the Journalism department of Southern Illinois university as one of the best in the nation and keeping pace with the development of the school. Other guests were Mr. Barnett and Bill Melton, also of The Daily Register editorial department.

Dr. James Gaskins, vice president of the club, presided in the absence of the president, Dan Davis.

One-Way Traffic on Vine Street Between Poplar and Church
Chief of Police Ross Lane announced that one-way traffic on Vine street between Poplar and Church streets is in effect today. Parking lanes were changed a number of days ago but the city had to wait until traffic signs arrived to put the regulation in effect.

The signs arrived yesterday and were installed, instructing motorists that traffic should move only to the south in this block. That means there will be no traffic moving into the square.

"The block is now properly marked and the public should now obey the new traffic regulations," Lane stated.

Killed When Tractor Overtakes
MACKINAW, Ill. (AP)—Clyde W. Short, 66, Mackinaw, was killed Tuesday when the tractor he was driving overturned on an embankment on Ill. 9 west of here.

Short was operating a tractor mower for the Illinois Highway Department at the time of the accident.

New Haven Man Fatally Injured

Oscar Mitchell McCreary, 29, resident of New Haven, was killed instantly this morning on the highway near Brownsville south of Carmi.

Reports were that McCreary had had car trouble and was flagging traffic on the highway when he was struck by an approaching automobile.

He is survived by his wife, Sally, a stepson, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur McCreary of New Haven.

The body is at the Cox funeral home in Ridgway and will be taken to New Haven late this afternoon. Funeral plans are incomplete.

Area Promotion Discussed by Historical Group

The Saline County Historical society met Tuesday evening at the library with Mrs. Fred Lindsay, vice president, in charge.

The program chairman, Ray Durham, introduced the feature program, a lecture on promoting the scenic, historic and recreational attractions of southern Illinois, particularly those entered through the gateway of Harrisburg.

This was illustrated by beautiful color slides taken by Lowell Dearing and projected by Mrs. Dearing. Mr. Dearing is the representative of the Keystone Steel and Wire Co. with headquarters at Mt. Vernon, Ill. He is also active in the annual Ozark tours, the recreation committee of Southern Illinois, Inc., and is to be a guide on the auto tours out of Giant City park from Oct. 7 to the 10th.

He was also active in promoting Eddyville Scenic Sites, Inc., through the spring tours. He pointed out there are 15 outstanding attractions within 15 miles of Eddyville and that in southern Illinois tourists may travel shorter distances and see a greater variety of attractions than anywhere else in the United States. He referred to these as "tourist stoppers."

Mr. Dearing urged that citizens of southern Illinois promote the attractions where good roads now exist that the popularity of these places eventually will lead to more tourist accommodations and new roads to hidden beauty spots now not easily accessible.

He extended a cordial invitation to the public to attend the autumn color tours. Anyone interested in joining the tours at Harrisburg Sunday at 9 a. m. may call 812R.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Clarence Bosket, Mrs. Ada Reese and Miss Alvina Shestak.

John L. Lewis Suffers Minor Heart Attack

Disclosure of Illness Raises Question Of Retirement

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis can continue his "life as usual" as head of the United Mine Workers union despite his recent heart attack, his physician said today.

Dr. John Minor said the attack, which occurred about two weeks ago, was "very minor" that the 75-year-old labor leader is "doing wonderfully" and that he can resume his "life as usual."

"I've told him so and that's my opinion," Minor said.

But disclosure of the attack Tuesday raised again a long-unanswered question: Will Lewis retire?

He has never indicated that he has any plans to relinquish to someone else his 35-year job as chief of the UMW.

News of the heart attack took UMW officials by surprise. Thru-out his stormy career, Lewis' health has been good, except for a slight proneness to the common cold.

When he entered Emergency hospital here two weeks ago, Minor said it was for a rest, checkup and observation. But he said Tuesday that he ordered Lewis to the hospital because of some "very slight symptoms which were suspicious." He said the evidence showed that Lewis had had a "very minor heart attack" which left a "very minute coronary damage."

But he said there have been no complications and that Lewis probably will return to his home in nearby Alexandria, Va., at the end of this week.

Industry Fears Struggle
The question of what would happen to the UMW in event anything happened to Lewis bothers coal industry officials, at least. Industry sources say they fear a struggle for leadership in the UMW organization that would result in chaotic unrest in the coal fields.

The "heir-apparent" to the UMW presidency, in event Lewis should retire, is Vice President Thomas Kennedy, a long and close associate of Lewis.

Under the UMW constitution, Kennedy would become president automatically in event of Lewis' retirement or death, pending the union's next election in December, 1956.

Kennedy, 68, is very popular in the UMW even though he does not cut the dramatic figure that Lewis always has. Like Lewis, he started his career in the coal fields as a child and rose with Lewis in the union hierarchy.

He also served as lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania from 1934 through 1938 under Democratic Gov. George Earle. He was appointed vice president of the UMW in 1947 and has been re-elected twice since.

Army to Pay Expenses Of Eisenhower at Hospital, Except Food

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army is to pay the expenses, except food, at getting to pay all President Eisenhower's expenses at the Eisenhower hospital in Denver.

The decision recognizes Mr. Eisenhower's position as commander-in-chief of the armed forces.

Violent Gun Battle Breaks Out at Indiana Foundry

Shooting Climaxes Demonstration from Discharge of 35 Striking Workers

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (AP)—Several persons were wounded in a gun battle today at the gates of the Perfect Circle Corp. foundry where a crowd of union laborers demonstrated against the firing of 35 strikers in a 10-week walkout at the plant.

As many as eight persons may have been hurt, including an Indiana state police lieutenant who told superiors he was hit in the back of the head with a board.

At least four persons were taken to a hospital with gunshot wounds, a fifth was taken to a private clinic, and a sixth—a woman with a broken leg—was being treated inside the plant.

Violence raged for about two hours until state police arrived and a heavy rain dispersed the demonstrators.

An estimated 500 to 1,000 strikers and sympathizers, the latter prompted to join the demonstration by letters urging them to protest the firings of CIO United Auto Workers, milled around the plant gates.

Aides of Indiana Gov. George Craig ordered 150 troopers into the area. They gathered in a park across town and sped to the plant area.

Craig was in Miami to attend an American Legion convention. His office also alerted Indiana National Guard officers for possible duty.

Mayor Paul McCormack said he expected martial law to be declared by nightfall.

Mrs. Ethel Roberts, a non-striker on duty inside the foundry, was shot in the leg by a bullet fired from outside the building, police reported. Her leg was broken.

Workers Active in Salvation Army Drive; First Reports Turned In

The Salvation Army's annual drive for funds was kicked off yesterday with the working of all the committees in Harrisburg, Eldorado, and Carrier Mills. In Harrisburg only some of the contributions solicited by the Advance Gift committee have been turned in.

The response has been good, and the members of the committees are working earnestly. Following are the larger contributions collected up to this morning:

Sahara Coal Company, fifty tons of coal; Frank P. Parker, $100; Earl's Dept. Store, Loran Wasson, American Legion, $25; Atty. L. M. Hancock, Atty. Don Scott, Mrs. Mary Barnhill, Paul Halbersleben, $15.

City Officials, Fire Department Inspect New Vienna Fire Truck

City officials and members of the fire department today inspected a new fire truck that was en route to Vienna.

Vienna purchased a new 500-gallon pumper from the Central Fire Truck Co. of St. Louis and the driver spent the night in Harrisburg so that officials could see it this morning.

Harrisburg definitely is interested in getting a new truck and is now seeing what can be done to get one through the co-operation of the Civil Defense setup. Several cities have obtained them this way, having to pay only half the cost.

It was learned that a truck must be at least a 750-gallon pumper for the Civil Defense organization to co-operate. That is the size desired by Harrisburg.

Plant officials and other non-strikers tried to clear a path thru the crowd to take her to a hospital but could not get through.

Taken to Henry County hospital with gunshot wounds were Robert Ford, 26; Paul Carper, 43; Anderson; Clayton Nunn, 20, New Castle, and an unidentified man.

Ross Drennon, 34, Anderson, was taken to City Clinic with a bullet lodged in his knee.

The demonstration began when the strikers and sympathizers marched on the plant from an athletic field nearby. Three city policemen were watching, one from inside the plant and two outside.

Group Questions White County Bridge Officials

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators today questioned White County Bridge Commission Chairman J. Madison Pomeroy for four hours in secret session about the finances of the New Harmony, Ind., White County, Ill. toll bridge.

Committee Chairman Winfield K. Denton (D-Ind.) declined to reveal the nature of the questions and said that Pomeroy would be recalled for further questioning at an afternoon session.

Also on hand to testify were Roy Clippinger, Carmi, Ill. editor and former Republican congressman who is now bridge manager, and Bridge Supt. Don Blair.

Denton, who heads a three-man select House committee investigating the commission, said he would not make public the secret testimony for the present.

Pomeroy declined to tell reporters about his testimony.

The committee is investigating the financial affairs of the commission in an effort to find out how the toll revenue has been spent and when the bridge will be free of the toll.

The General Accounting Office has audited the commission's books. It submitted a secret report to the committee in an all-day session Tuesday.

The commission was created by Congress in 1941 with three lifetime commissioners.

Eisenhower Receives Gifts From Grandchildren

DENVER (AP)—The White House reported optimistically today that President Eisenhower enjoyed another "excellent night" and that the chief executive probably would be able to work with routine official papers later in the day.

The President's temperature, pulse and blood pressure continued normal and the White House described his progress as satisfactory "without complications."

The brightest spot in Mr. Eisenhower's day was a box of gifts from his three grandchildren, all of whom sent him bubble gum in quantity, along with playing cards and crayon drawings.

During the morning the President visited with his wife and in the early afternoon scheduled a brief conference with Sherman Adams.

Will Be Held August 30 in San Francisco

GOP Chairman Signs Contract With Cow Palace

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said flatly and emphatically today the GOP nominating convention will be held, as planned in San Francisco starting Aug. 20.

Hall announced at a news conference that he had signed today a final contract with San Francisco's Cow Palace, where he predicted "we are going to nominate the next president of the United States." He said the contract contains no escape clause.

Hall also told newsmen: 1. His choice for the GOP ticket still is President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon. He declined to speculate on an alternative ticket in event Mr. Eisenhower does not run.

2. Recent declines in the stock market, paralleling the announcement of Mr. Eisenhower's heart attack and, later, that he was not feeling so well, indicate that "there is great faith in President Eisenhower." Beyond that, he was not prepared to discuss the stock market reactions to the President's illness.

3. He does not think national political conventions ever again will be held as early as they formerly were. With the speed-up of communications and the advent of television, long campaigns no longer will be needed.

Hall said he believes his signature on a binding contract with the Cow Palace should lay at rest "false rumors," spread by Democrats, that the Republican convention as to be shifted to Chicago and the date moved up. The Democrats will hold their convention in Chicago starting Aug. 13.

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said Monday he was willing to "bet" the GOP would switch cities and their convention would be held earlier, probably in July.

"I think he (Butler) wants to bet a Truman dollar," Hall said. He said he hopes we can expect that later statements from Butler "will have more foundation of truth."

B. R. Stalions, Former Carrier Mills Man, Dies

B. R. Stalions, 50, of 368 South Columbia, Naperville, prominent sportsman, cattleman and industrialist, died Friday at his ranch near Newman, Ga. He was the son of Mrs. Louella Stalions and the late S. S. Stalions of Carrier Mills.

Mr. Stalions, who divided his time between his home at Naperville and his ranch in Georgia, was president of the Perfect Power Corporation which operates about 50 gasoline stations in Chicago and suburban area, including one at the DuPage county intersection of U. S. Route 34 and Illinois Route 65, east of Naperville.

He also operated, in addition to his Chicago enterprises, a large cattle ranch in Coweta county, Georgia, known as the Rolling Meadows farm. The Rolling Meadows farm was formerly located in Illinois, Route 59, north of Route 65, before the project was moved by Mr. Stalions to Georgia.

Mr. Stalions was prominent in Hereford breeding circles, having been recently president of the Georgia Hereford Association and president of the West Georgia Hereford Assn. At the time of his death, he was a director of both organizations.

He was a member of the Chicago Golf club and the Chicago Oil Men's club, a director of the Chicago Gasoline Jobbers Association and a director of the Chicago Gasoline Retailers Assn.

Mr. Stalions, in addition to his wife, Irene, is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Raymond Adams and Mrs. William Berg, both of Naperville, and his mother, Mrs. Louella Stalions as well as by six brothers, five sisters and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock Monday morning from Ackman's funeral chapel at 318 S. Washington St., Naperville. Interment was in SS. Peter and Paul Cemetery.

MAKING SMOOTH SAILING FOR BULL DOG FANS is this mixer, shown engaged on O'Gara street in front of Taylor Field, where a street paving job is being done. A layer of sandy soil, then cement, were trucked to the street, and the mixer was going along mixing these two ingredients into a soil cement base. Cement trucks can be seen ahead of the mixer. After watering and rolling, asphalt and chips were to be placed on the surface. Due to a shortage of cement, the two-block area from Land west to Capital was being finished up first. It was said that this part of the project, which runs from Granger to the cemetery, will be finished in time for the Friday night football game between Harrisburg and Mt. Vernon at Taylor Field. The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Relations With Egypt, Arab States Worsening; Possible
Cotton "Dumping" By U. S. A Factor; Army Maneuvers Land Deal With Louisiana After Texans' Squawks.

WASHINGTON—Relations with Egypt and the Arab states are even worse than appears on the surface. Here are the latest developments:

1. The expulsion of the American air attaché, Col. Gilbert E.
Erb, under circumstances that indicate Egypt has a dangerous chip-on-the-shoulder attitude.

Colonel Erb had remarked merely in private conversations that he thought the Israelis had probably shot down two Egyptian planes instead of their having crashed in the air, as the Egyptians claimed. The Egyptians had explained that the two planes bumped into each other and crashed. The Israelis claimed they shot them down. Because Colonel Erb remarked that it was unlikely the two planes bumped into each other and indicated the Israelis were trigger happy anyway and probably shot down the two planes, he was declared persona non grata and asked to leave Egypt.

2. George V. Allen, the Dulles special envoy, carries a much sterner warning for the Egyptians than has been indicated. He was instructed by Secretary of State Dulles to tell Premier Nasser that the powerful Israeli army is all set to start attacking the minute Communist arms are delivered. The Israelis have the force to take Cairo in a short time.

3. A proposal to dump the huge
U. S. cotton surplus on the world market as an economic reprisal against Egyptian cotton is gaining support. Southern congressmen have been urging this on Secretary of Agriculture Benson for some time, not as a move against Egypt, but in order to get rid of the cotton surplus. Now that Egypt is determined to buy Communist arms, the proposal has new advocates.

4. The former executive director of the Republican National committee, Douglas Whitlock, has become top lobbyist for the Arab League in Washington.

While this has had no effect on the international situation it hasn't particularly helped the domestic political situation, since Whitlock continues to be high up in Republican circles. He was the chief organizer of Eisenhower's campaign train during the 1952 campaign and as recently as last month addressed the Republican state committee here at the special Len Hall "school" to prepare for the '56 campaign.

Note—On the agricultural front, Congressman Jamie Whitten of Mississippi has just finished a barbed report attacking the administration for not selling its surplus cotton. Though Secretary Benson proposed, in various cabinet sessions, that the cotton be sold abroad, the State Department, reinforced by the Secretary of the Treasury, argued against "dumping" on the ground that it would upset our relations with Egypt and other cotton-growing nations.

Now that our relations are already upset, and Egypt has proceeded to barter cotton for Communist arms, the cotton-bloc congressmen see no further reason for holding our huge supply of cotton off the market at tremendous cost to ourselves.

ARMY-LOUISIANA "DEAL"
It hasn't been announced, but the Army has made a huge land-sempolitical deal with the state of Louisiana. It will reopen Camp Polk, La., on a permanent basis,
and in return, Louisiana's Gov.
Robert Kennon has promised to provide the Army with 7,000,000 acres for its gigantic forthcoming maneuvers, "Operation Sagebrush."

The deal was arranged by Maj.
Gen. Raymond Fleming, former National Guard Bureau chief and now Louisiana's adjutant general.
It took place after Texas citizens refused to grant the Army "maneuver permits" to play its war games in Texas.

The story goes back to "Operation Longhorn," which was staged in Texas in 1951. The Army fought mock battles over Texas farms in ranch land, trampling down thousands of dollars' worth of crops. Afterward, Army appraisers toured the "battlefields" to assess the damage. Being economy minded, they underestimated the damage. Then the General Accounting Office ordered all claims reduced in half as another economy measure.

In the end, Texans got reimbursed for only a fraction of the damage done to their land and crops. When the Army came around for "maneuver permits" for "Operation Bluebolt" in 1954, the Texans remembered how they had been short-changed and turned the Army down. As a result,
"Operation Bluebolt" was never held, except in limited form at Fort Hood, Texas.

Now, "Operation Bluebolt" will be combined in the gigantic new maneuvers, "Operation Sagebrush." Since the Army couldn't get "maneuver permits" to stage
the war games in Texas, however, the generals had to look elsewhere for their battleground.

At this point, General Fleming offered to get "maneuver permits" for 7,000,000 acres in Louisiana if the Army would make a permanent base of Camp Polk.
The Army sent Governor Kennon a private telegram, agreeing to this unique deal. At latest reports, 6,000,000 acres of the maneuver grounds have been signed up.

Begin Building Coal Pipeline

CADIZ, Ohio — A new era in the development of the coal industry was ushered in today as Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co.
began construction of a 106-mile coal pipeline from Georgetown, Ohio, to Cleveland.

The initial 30-mile link will run from the company's Hanna Coal Co. preparation plant at Georgetown to a pumping station, Williams Brothers Co., Tulsa, Okla., contracted for construction of the pipeline.

When the pipeline is completed late next year, pulverized coal will be mixed with water and pumped through pipes to a terminus in Cleveland's Eastlake District. The coal will be separated from the water and sent to Cleveland's Electric Illuminating Co. power plant.

The line will be the first major conveyor of its kind in the world and will cost between eight and 10-million dollars. It will have a capacity of 1,200,000 tons of coal
a year.

GI Bill for World War II Veterans is Near Its End at U.I.

URBANA-CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—An era in veterans education is ending at the University of Illinois.

Next fall the famous "GI Bill," also known as Public Law 346, for World War II veterans will expire.
Under its provisions more than 22-000 have been graduated from the university.

While their place has been taken by Korean veterans, attending under the "Korean GI Bill," their numbers have never approached those of the World War II men—and women.

Today only 150 of the World War II veterans are left. More than 3,500 Korean veterans are on the campus, a sizable number—but no comparison to the 11,296 ex-GI's who registered in 1947.

Veterans have proved good scholars. The drop-out rate at Illinois, 5 to 6 per cent, is 1 per cent below
the non-veteran student average.

Next fall the only World War II veterans still eligible to get government scholarships under P. L.
346 will be those who entered service between Oct. 6, 1945, and Oct.
5, 1946. This special group must complete their education within 9 years after their date of discharge.

Sen. McNamara Says Nation Will Be Age-Conscious in Selecting President

WASHINGTON — Sen. Pat Mc-Namara said today President Eisenhower's illness may make the nation more age-conscious in selecting presidential candidates next summer.

The Michigan Democrat said he personally believes President Eisenhower was reluctant to run before his recent heart attack and probably will decide not to do so now.

But he said he does not believe
Mr. Eisenhower's heart seizure au-tomatically ruled the President out as GOP candidate. Nor did a similar heart attack rule out the possible presidential candidacy of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B.
Johnson of Texas who was similarly stricken, McNamara said.

He made the statements after two Republican senators cautioned against premature speculation on presidential candidates. Both Sen.
John Bricker (R-Ohio) and Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.) held out the hope that Mr. Eisenhower might make the race.

In a separate interview Mc-Namara expressed the opinion that Mr. Eisenhower's illness, whatever other effects it has on the political scene, will make the nation more conscious of the tremendous demands the office of the presidency makes on its occupant. That, he said, may make people give more thought to the age of prospective candidates.

Such an attitude might react to the advantage of Democrats like Adlai E. Stevenson and Michigan's Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, the senator said. It might not help the candidacy of Gov.

McNamara said. Harriman is

Truman Tells 'Inside Story' of Feud with Byrnes

WASHINGTON — Former President Truman struck a new blow
in his bitter feud with James F.
Byrnes today by telling his "inside story" of their rivalry for the 1944 Democratic vice presidential nomination.

He said that although he (Mr.
Truman) was the late President Roosevelt's choice for the No. 2
spot on the Democratic ticket, Byrnes telephoned just before the convention and "told me that President Roosevelt had decided on him as the new nominee for vice president, and asked me if I would nominate him at the convention."

"I believe," Mr. Truman said,
"that Byrnes knew that the President had named me at the time he called me."

Byrnes told the United Press
at Columbia, S. C. that he had no comment "at this time" about any statement Mr. Truman makes about me.

Mr. Truman's version of one of the most sharply disputed chapters in American politics was contained in the third installment of his memoirs published in Life magazine.

Runaway Truck Hits Freight Cars; Five Dead

WEST NEWTON, Pa. (AP)—This
Western Pennsylvania community counted five dead and two injured today in a mighty collision when a runaway truck smashed into a slow-moving freight train and sent box cars tumbling wildly through two brick buildings.

The victims included the driver of the truck and residents of the town who were in or near the track-side buildings when the box cars roared into them. Both the two-story brick buildings were demolished. Nine box cars piled up in a heap on the freight track by the truck.

Witnesses said a heavily laden lumber truck driven by Claude Brandt of Warrenton, N. C., was speeding at 80 miles an hour on a steep down grade just before it hit the train late Tuesday. They said the truck brakes apparently failed as it approached the tracks.

The truck hit the second car of the freight train which was moving at 25 to 30 miles an hour.
Many of the 70 cars in the Cumberland, Md., to Chicago express freight train were driven from the tracks and sent careening down the store lined street.

Peron Claims He Did Not Resign in Argentina; Denies He Has Hidden Wealth

EDITOR'S NOTE: In the following interview with United Press, former President Juan D. Peron gives his version of the Argentine revolution and the events leading to his exile. He described it as the "first and only" such statement he will make.

By GERMAN CHAVES
United Press Staff Correspondent
ASUNCION, Paraguay (U.P.) — Ousted President Juan D. Peron today described himself as a man without wealth, double-crossed and forced into exile by his own generals. He said he still is the "constitutional president" of Argentina.

He never resigned his office, he said.

He said he could have continued to resist the revolution and that "the chances of success were absolute."

But he said it would have meant "prolonging the struggle, killing many people and destroying that which it cost us so much to build."

He did not rule out the possibility that "some day it would occur to me" to return to Argentine politics but said that for now he intended to remain quietly in Paraguay.

The former dictator spoke in answer to a written series of questions put to him in his Paraguayan exile by United Press and then continued his conversation for another 45 minutes. The declaration he was making, he said, would be his "first and only one" because "it is not my purpose to blow my own horn."

Cites Class Struggle
Peron charged that the revolution leading to his exile "represents the struggle of the parasitic class against the producing class."

"The oligarchy contributed their money, the clerics their sermons, a section of the armed forces, dominated by the ambition of certain chiefs, contributed the arms of the republic," he said.

He said that "despite the wealth attributed to me by my occasional detractors," he did not have the money to go to Europe and "play the tourist."

In Buenos Aires, Peron's former vice president, Rear Adm. Alberto Teissaire, described the ousted dictator as cowardly, disloyal, hypocritical and immoral. He said that since 1952 Peron practically had ceased to govern, spending most of his time with high school girls, labor unionists and actresses, or in sporting activities.

Reported Hidden Fortune
The Argentine provisional government claims to have uncovered hidden treasure valued at upwards of 30-million dollars tucked away by Peron in various hideaways where he and his friends conducted their revels.

Peron said that after the revolution the rebel navy threat to bomb Buenos Aires and the oil installations at Eva Peron (La Plata), he wrote the note "suggesting the need to avoid the massacre of innocent and defenseless people and the disaster of destruction, offering, if necessary, to withdraw from the government."

He said that his own generals under Gen. Franklin Lucero chose to interpret his "offer" as a formal resignation.

Give Children a Break, Barrett Urges Motorists

Sheriff William T. Barrett, urging that motorists give the kids a break, today asked drivers to go extra slowly when children are on the streets.

"Each year more than 3,000 children are killed and 165,000 injured by automobiles," he said. "Many of these accidents could be avoided if drivers would only remember that a child's irresponsibility adds to their responsibility. "Youngsters at play," he continued, "often forget to look out for automobiles. But you can't afford to forget to look out for youngsters. When you drive near schools, playgrounds or residential districts—remember to slow up so you can stop in time. "When a school bus stops, a car should stop, whether approaching or overtaking. When a boy in white harness holds up his hand, he is as big as the law. "The American road is your road and the fate of many is in your hands when your hands are on the wheel of a car."

Reservoirs Half Full After Pumping From Lake Harrisburg

Water was pumped into Harrisburg's reservoirs at the rate of 3,000 gallons per minute for 16 and a half hours last week after the valves were opened at Lake Harrisburg and water allowed to flow down the creek to the pumping station.

Water Superintendent Amos Doom revealed the pumps were shut off about 10:30 p. m. Friday. The valves at the lake were first opened Thursday morning and pumping at the reservoirs began late that night, continuing for about five hours. The pumps were started again Friday morning about 9 o'clock and continued for more than 11 hours.

Each of the two reservoirs are approximately half full, Doom reported.

Flood Waters Drive 500 from Homes in Texas

Rain-swollen flood waters drove 500 persons from their homes in Wichita Falls, Tex., today and an even greater flood threatened to spill out of the rising Red river.

To the south, meanwhile, the disaster at flood-devastated Tampico, Mexico, mounted. Fourteen U. S. Navy helicopters flew hundreds of persons from a tiny island in the heart of the city. But there were 60,000 persons in the area and the waters were rising.

Rains in this country continued from the Mississippi Valley to central Oklahoma and spread over most of the Great Lakes region today. The heaviest recent rains included 1.99 inches at Hobart, Okla., and 1.50 inches at Lawton, Okla.

FARMERSVILLE, Ill. "I am a regular user of Rennel Concentrate. What I mean by regular is this. I work on the school lunch program and it is so easy to gain weight being around food all the time. I kept gaining until I reached 158 lbs. When I read about the Rennel home recipe way to reduce in the newspaper, I tried it and right away my weight came down to 142 lbs. Now if I seem to be gaining again I take Rennel and the surplus weight just seems to roll away. Rennel is pleasant to take and safe for both young and old. I have used it off and on for 5 years now." Official Says Price of Newsprint Will Be Increased

NEW YORK — Newsprint prices, which have held steady since the middle of 1952, will go up "in the foreseeable future," the head of one of the world's biggest newsprint manufacturers said Tuesday.

Sir Eric Bowater, chairman of Bowater Paper Corp. Ltd., said "producers cannot continue to absorb the ever mounting costs in the manufacture of newsprint."

He cited a 15 per cent increase in wages since the last price hike. In addition, he noted a brisk gray market has developed in newsprint in which premiums of $50 a ton and more are being paid.

The standard price for newsprint now is $126 a ton. Bowater declined to estimate the rate of increase or exactly when it would occur.

Nixon Receives Ahrends Report On Farm Problem

WASHINGTON — Vice President Richard M. Nixon received a "grassroots" report Tuesday from Republican House Whip Leslie C. Ahrends on the politically explosive farm problem.

The Illinois Republican called at Nixon's office to talk over a personal study he made of farm problems in the Midwest.

The meeting with Ahrends was one of several Nixon held with GOP leaders on administration and political problems.

The drop in farm income in recent months looms as a hot election campaign issue in 1956. Ahrends said the price-cost squeeze on farmers is a "difficult situation."

He told reporters after his conference with Nixon that Midwestern farmers are more concerned about increases in the prices of things they buy, such as tractors, than they are about the shipping prices on the things they sell.

Remorseful Bandit Returns Bank Loot with Note

ST. LOUIS — The gunman who robbed the Mount Olive, Ill., bank returned most of the $4,700 loot with a note saying "God knows I'm sorry," but FBI agents still hunted for him today.

A man believed to be the remorseful bandit telephoned the bank Tuesday and told cashier Roy Robinson to go to the Famous Barr department store in downtown St. Louis.

"See the manager and you will get your money back," the man said.

FBI agents went to the store and opened a rented locker box. They found $4,495, along with the hometown dinner in the Pekin high school cafeteria Thursday.

We miss you in the morning, dear,
When all the world is new;
We know the day can bring no joy
Because it brings not you.
We miss the well known voice of you,
Your tender little smile,
The youth of you—the charm of you,
Your gladness all the while.

But there was only one of you.

Alston Says Dodgers Will Continue Domination on Strength of Young Pitchers

BROOKLYN (AP)—Walt Alston, the man who was hired to "beat the Yankees" and did it, declared today his world champion Brooklyn Dodgers should continue their domination the next few years on the strength of their brilliant young pitchers.

"I'm very optimistic about the club's future," said Alston, who accomplished the job he was hired for when he led the Dodgers to their first world championship in history Tuesday.

"We have so many fine young pitchers," Alston pointed out, "that I don't anticipate any serious trouble in that department for a long time to come."

One of the youngsters he had in mind principally was Johnny Podres, the steel-nerved 23-year-old southpaw who throttled the vaunted Yankees, 2-0, on eight hits in the seventh and deciding game of the 1955 World Series before 62,465 fans at Yankee Stadium Tuesday.

"Podres was magnificent," Alston said. "He did everything anyone could ask of him and then some."

Thinking Of Future

Thinking in terms of the future, Alston said Podres will have such youthful running mates on the Brooklyn pitching staff as right-handers Roger Craig, Don Bessent and Ed Roebuck, along with left-handers Karl Spooner and Sandy Koufax.

Craig, the "surprise starter" and winner of the fifth game of the World Series, is only 24, as are Bessent, Roebuck, and Spooner. Koufax, the bonus lefty who showed so well near the end of the National League season but saw no action in the series, hasn't reached his 20th birthday yet.

Podres, who celebrated his 23rd birthday with his first series triumph over the Yankees in the third game of the classic, was mobbed by his hysterically happy teammates after beating the Bronx Bombers in the wrap-up again Tuesday.

The victory by the Dodgers was history-making in many respects. Not only had they licked the Yankees after five fruitless tries previously but they also won the biggest box-office series ever. When the total net receipts were counted they came to $2,337,513.34, a new series record.

Precedent Shattering Triumph
Brooklyn's comeback triumph was also precedent shattering in that the Dodgers became the first team in history ever to win a seven-game series after dropping the first two contests.

Southpaw Tommy Byrne, who won the second game of the series and started for the Yankees Tuesday, matched ciphers with Podres until the fourth inning when the Dodgers scored their first run on a double by Roy Campanella, an infield out and a single by Gil Hodges. A sacrifice fly by Hodges brought in Pee Wee Reese with an insurance run in the sixth inning.

Podres was in only two real tight spots but worked his way out of both of them. With two men on and none out in the sixth, Yogi Berra hit a ball along the left field foul line that threatened to drop for extra bases. But speedy Sandy Amoroso, who had replaced Junior Gilliam in left field during that same frame, came from nowhere to grab the ball and relay it back to the infield for a double play.

Struck Out Bauer
Berra came up again with two men on and one out in the eighth but Podres induced him to hit to Carl Furillo in short right field, then struck out Hank Bauer to end the Yankees' final threat.

Both Alston and Yankee Manager Casey Stengel agreed that Amoroso' catch of Berra's smash in the sixth inning was the key play of the game. Oddly Amoroso entered the game only because George Shuba had batted for Don Zimmer in the sixth and Gilliam moved to second base in place of Zimmer.

Amoroso, an amiable little Cuban who is much more at ease in the field than he is with the English language, got the message across later that he never made a better catch in his life. He said he was no more than a yard from the left field fence when he grabbed the ball.

Stengel, a gracious loser, praised Podres' pitching but said the four home runs by Duke Snider during the series "hurt us the most."

Brooklyn Spins Like Mad After World Series Win

BROOKLYN (AP)—Brooklyn, home of the "Bums" who became world champions after 55 years, is spinning like a merry-go-round at Coney Island today.

The celebration of the "next year" that finally came may go right on until next year.

A howl of joy split the air from "Greenpernt" to Coney, and wildly tooting auto horns joined in the uproar. Business firms gave up work—they had to, because their employees were too busy celebrating.

One storekeeper on Flatbush "Avenue" went stark, screaming crazy and started selling everything at 10 per cent off.

"What goes on here?" demanded an irate truck driver of a beaming cop as the crowds caused a traffic jam in the downtown business district. "The Dodgers win the series and everyone goes crazy."

"What's wrong with that?" grinned the cop and the traffic stayed jammed.

Dummies labeled "Yankees" were quickly strung up to some of those famous trees that grow in Brooklyn.

Everybody ran to telephones. The Phone company reported that from 3:44 to 4:01 p. m. all circuits in the city were jammed and one official said it probably was due to "Dodger fans arranging celebrations."

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

The University of Miami publicity department is still beating the drums for Whitey Rouviere. The Buckner boy who played high school football at Christopher is captain of the Miami team and is being pushed for All-American honors.

Rouviere has played outstanding ball this season, but not the spectacular brand of ball that is usually necessary to get All-American honors.

Friday night Miami meets Notre Dame and Whitey will be trying to convince Notre Dame that he is plenty big to play college ball. Before entering Miami, Rouviere sought to enter Notre Dame and try out for the football squad, but was told by the Irish coaching staff that he was too small.

"Chuck" Hunsinger, Harrisburg football player in the Canadian professional grid league, has been hampered by injuries practically all season and has written friends in this area that he may return home before the season ends.

"Chuck" missed a couple of early season games because of a groin injury and now is on the disabled list with a chipped ankle bone. In last week's game he played on a crippled ankle that showed him on both defense and offense, but he did manage to swing loose a one occasion for a TD.

J. C. Caroline, former All-American at the University of Illinois, has been signed by the Montreal Alouettes and is expected to take over Hunsinger's right half back spot.

"First time I ever saw a Harrisburg-Eldorado football game," said Jim McKee Saturday morning in discussing the game played the night before. McKee was freshman coach at HTHS for several years before returning to his home town of Centralia this school term. While in Harrisburg Jim drew the scouting duties and never saw the Bull Dogs in action except in the last game each season—when his scouting chores were completed. He saw the game Friday night while scouting for Centralia.

Mt. Vernon also had scouts at the game. Saw Stan Changnon, athletic director, and Harold Hutchins, basketball coach, from Mt. Vernon, watching the game from near the goal line at the north end of the field.

Another interested onlooker was "Doc" Bencini, assistant coach at SHU and head coach at Murphysboro for many years. Understand he was scouting for possible college talent. Beal of Harrisburg and Lovellette of Eldorado have both the talent and size that should interest college coaches.

Being an understudy to Catcher Yogi Berra of the Yankees has its advantages, financially. In the seven years Charley Silvera has been the second man in the Yankee catching line he has averaged only 25 games a year. Yet, says The Sporting News, his World Series shares for five championships was $32,000.

The Brooklyn Dodgers set an all-time record this past season, says The Sporting News, in the number of days in first place. They were out of the lead only two days out of the total of 168. The old mark was set by the Yankees of 1949, who were out in front 164 out of 168 days.

Bull Dogs Seek to Remain in Running for Shrine Grid Trophy

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs will be fighting to stay in the running in the Shrine football series with Mt. Vernon when the Rams invade Taylor Field Friday night for a contest starting at 7:30.

The Shrine series began in 1952, with the first team to win three games to be declared the winner. For the winner will be a big trophy. Each year miniature footballs are given the players.

The Rams started off swiftly by taking two games in a row but last year the Bull Dogs came back to win. If Mt. Vernon wins Friday night the series will be over with the Rams series champs; but if the Bull Dogs win the rubber game will be held at Mt. Vernon next year.

Advance sale tickets are available at the Athletic House and the Skaggs drug store, and some members of the Egyptian Shrine club are selling tickets. The cost of a ticket is one dollar, with part of the amount going to the high school and part to the Shrine's organization for its work at its hospital for crippled children. Student tickets remain the same.

Caluetti Praises Line
Besides having an incentive to win this game to stay in contention for the trophy, the Bull Dogs also must win to remain undefeated for the season. Mt. Vernon has been an off-and-on club which was picked by a number to win the South Seven conference title this year. Their lone conference game was a loss to Herrin.

But the Mt. Vernon linesmen are big and the backs are fast and it will be up to a strong Harrisburg defense to keep the team in check.

Harrisburg Coach Lawrence Caluetti gave strong praise to his line in analyzing the victory last Friday over Eldorado.

"The line played just like he had practiced," he commented. "If it hadn't, we'd have been lost."

And he continued:

"It has been definitely the work in the line that has made the team what it is today. We have a line that is solid from end to end, with Jim Williams and Joe Morris at ends, Ken Price and Everett Evans at tackles, Richard Hess and Jay Waite at guards and Ronnie Williams at center. The ends have been especially pleasing, because I thought we might have some weaknesses there before the season got under way."

"The ball team as a whole—the line, the linebackers, the secondary boys who play back—has been defensively sound all year."

Caluetti probably will rely on this first string line, plus his first string backs, Wayman Hefner at quarter, Fred McKenzie and Jack Wright at halfbacks and Tony Beal

Train Vice Presidents
As 'Spare' Chief
Executives: Truman

WASHINGTON —Former President Truman believes vice presidents should be selected and kept in training as "spare" chief executives.

"It is a mighty leap from the vice presidency to the presidency when one is forced to make it without warning," said Mr. Truman, who made the leap himself when President Roosevelt died in 1945.

In the third installment of his memoirs published by Life magazine, Mr. Truman said ideally the vice president "should be equipped for the presidency at the time he is elected."

Parents of Six Adopt Eight Korean Babies

SEOUL, Korea —An Oregon farmer, father of six children, said today he adopted eight Korean babies fathered by American soldiers because "my wife and I love children."

Harry Holt, 50, Creswell, Ore., will take his brood of mixed blood children home by plane next week.

Holt said he and his wife decided to adopt the children after talking with a Korean representative who visited the United States to collect donations for Korean-American mixed-blood orphans. He has been in Korea all summer finding and making friends with his four new sons and four new daughters. They range in age from 19 months to 3 years.

Greek Premier Papagos Dies Of Tuberculosis

ATHENS —King Paul today delayed selection of a new premier to succeed Field Marshal Alexander Papagos whose death Tuesday night left Greece without a government leader at a time of grave domestic and international crisis.

Papagos, 72, hero of Greek resistance to the Axis invaders in World War II and commander of the loyal forces that crushed the Communist rebels in the postwar civil war, died shortly before midnight at his suburban villa in Ekali. He had been suffering for the past nine months from tuberculosis, contracted in his youth.

Dominant leader of postwar Greece, Papagos had refused to the very last to surrender his office in the midst of crisis both at home and abroad. Greek demands for independence of Cyprus from Britain and union with Greece were reaching a climax. Relations with Britain and Turkey and, even more important, with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization itself, had become tense.

The anti-Greek rioting in Turkey, a fellow NATO member, over the Cyprus issue provoked much stronger condemnation among the public than the Athens government could afford to express.

Papagos' illness was the root of the domestic troubles in which the cabinet was torn by dissension over internal problems. Papagos had been confined to his home outside of Athens for six months and the cabinet had not met for three months.

Reckless and Driving Too Fast Top Causes Of Fatal Accidents

SPRINGFIELD — Reckless driving and driving too fast for road conditions topped the list of causes of fatal Illinois highway accidents for the first six months of 1955, Public Works and Buildings Director Edwin A. Rosenstone reported today.

Rosenstone said an analysis of 12,636 accidents, involving 22,822 drivers which were reported during the six-month period revealed 463 fatalities in 358 accidents.

He said 93 were ascribed to reckless driving and 64 to driving too fast for road conditions.

Gov't Pledges to Reduce Oil Imports

WASHINGTON — Three coal state congressmen today praised the administration's pledge to reduce residual oil imports by government action if the industry itself does not do so voluntarily.

They said the pledge, made by Defense Mobilizer Arthur S. Flemming, marks "the first time in three years that the government has given any tangible indication that it wants to remove some of the unfair competitive burdens which have been foisted on the coal industry by federal policies."

The statement was made by Reps. Robert C. Byrd (D-W. Va.), Robert H. Mollohan (D-W. Va.) and Carl D. Perkins (D-Ky.) They conferred with Flemming on the residual oil problem recently.
